Let's Start!

You are at the supermarket. Ask someone to hand you something!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use basic information in simple situations.

Ask your partner:

- What do you say when you ask someone to hand you something?
- Make a list with your partner.

Can Do Statements

- I can ask someone to hand things over.
- I can use expressions when I hand things over.
- I can talk about things that I love.
- I can express orders and commands like eat.

Let's Explore!

Visit the deli with Tom. What does he order?

* A "deli" is a place in a supermarket where you can get cheese, cold cooked meat and prepared salads.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Tom: Excuse me, can I buy a ham sandwich?
Clerk: Here you are.
Tom: Thank you. That looks delicious! Can you give me a napkin, please?
Clerk: Sure, here you are.
Tom: Thanks. Where can I find the spicy mustard?
Clerk: It's on the counter, sir. I can hand that to you.
Clerk: Can I get anything else for you today?
Tom: No. Thanks, again.
Clerk: Sit. Eat. Enjoy your sandwich!
Tom: Can I ask you a question?
Clerk: Sure.
Tom: What time does the deli close?
Clerk: The deli closes at 8:00 p.m.
Tom: That's great! My wife loves your sandwiches.
