Let's Start!

Writing Spot: What do you do? Where do you live? Wh- questions ... Let's get started!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use basic information in simple situations.

Ask your partner:

- Think of 3 questions you want to ask your teacher.
- Now, think of 3 questions you want to ask a friend.

Can Do Statements

- I can ask for and offer help.
- I can ask who, what, when, where questions.
- I can talk about what I buy, hand, and give.

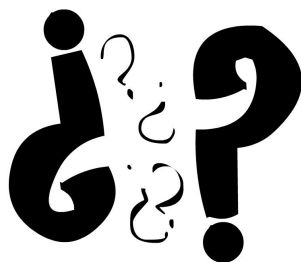

Let's Explore!

Henry and Tom talk about lunch. Who pays for it?

* "Who" is a Wh-question word.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Tom: When is lunch? I'm starving!
Henry: Why are you so hungry?
Tom: Because it's 12:00 p.m. I always eat lunch at noon.
Henry: Okay. What is for lunch?
Tom: Let's read the menu and ask a clerk. Excuse me? Can you help us please?
Clerk: Yes, of course. How can I help?
Tom: Where is the lunch menu please?
Clerk: Here it is.
Tom: Thanks. Can we have two sandwiches please?
Clerk: Sure, right away.
Henry: Ummmm ... Tom ... I have a problem.
Tom: What? No money again? Who pays for lunch today?
Henry: Could you give me a hand? Can you buy lunch ... again?

Learning Points

Wh- Questions With To Be

The Wh- questions words are: what, when, where, who, and why. You use them to ask for specific information.

The answer is NOT yes or no.

Question Word	Use	Example
Who	asks about a person	Who pays for lunch today?
What	asks for information	What can I help you with?
When	asks about time	When is lunch?
Where	asks about a place	Where is the lunch menu?
Why	asks about a reason	Why are you so hungry?

Do, Does and Can

You often use Do, Does and Can to ask questions.

You use DO when the subject is I, you, we or they.

When the subject is he, she or it, you add DOES to the beginning of the sentence.

You can use CAN to ask someone to do something.

Examples:

- Do you like chocolate?
- Does she like chocolate?
- Can you help me?
