Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use basic information in simple situations.

Ask your partner:

- Do you like to cook?
- Do you like to cook with a friend?
- Talk about your favorite food.

Can Do Statements

- I can ask a person to hand me things.
- I can express naming words.
- I can use who, what, when, where questions.
- I can talk about what I or people do.
- I can accept or decline offers of help.

Let's Explore!

Greg and Henry are in the kitchen with bread and carrots! Listen to their conversation.

* You use the definite article "the" when you talk about a specific place.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Greg: Mmmm! The soup smells good.
Henry: Greg, can you pass me the carrots and tomatoes?
Greg: Where are they? Oh I see them. Here you go.
Henry: Thanks. Can you cut the bread?
Greg: Sure. What can I do after that?
Henry: That's it. I love fresh bread!
Greg: You sound like Mom.
Henry: No, I don't.
Greg: She loves soup with bread. She makes it all the time.
Henry: So, what's for dessert?
Greg: How about a Belgian chocolate dessert! I can get it.
Henry: Thank you, but it's my turn to buy!

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

Accept and Decline Offers of Help

You can accept or decline an offer when someone wants to help you.

Read the examples in the chart and notice the differences. How do you accept help? How do you refuse?

Accept Offers of Help	Decline Offers of Help
Thank you so much!	Thank you, but I'm OK.
That's very helpful of you!	I don't need help, thanks.
Thanks for the offer!	I appreciate the offer, but ...

The Present Simple Tense

You add an -s to the verb when you use the 3rd person singular in the Present Simple tense, like he reads or she reads.

Read the examples in the chart below.

Singular	I He She It	I love sandwiches. He gets home at 10 p.m. She doesn't like ham. Does it close at 8 p.m?
Plural	We You They	We love ham sandwiches. Do you ask questions in class? They get home after 6 p.m.
